Board Member's Sickness Delays PCH Hearing Again

It happened yet again. Princeton Community Housing's case couldn't be presented to the Borough Zoning Board last Wednesday because one board member was sick and couldn't attend. The hearing has been rescheduled for Thursday, August 26.

A minimum of five board members was required by law to hear the case. The hearing had been scheduled for August 11 because that was one of the few nights, in this vacation season, when five members would be in town.

At 8:10, ten minutes after the hearing was supposed to start, the board secretary, Frank Slimak, learned that board member Alan Chimacott was ill. Mr. Slimak telephoned all other members and alternates, searching tor someone to take Mr. Chimacoff's place, but no one was in town.

An incredulous "oh, no!" went through the crowded Borough Hall Council chamber when acting chairman Barry Royce announced the postponement. Several in the audience had already heard rumors about the problem.

And even if Mr. Chimacoff had been present, there was even more. Board member Harry Clark is a New York commuter and he was trapped on a disabled train. He got the engineer ot the train to radio a railroad official who was supposed to call Borough Hall. Mr. Slimak says he didn't get the message, but Mr. Clark himself walked in at 9:15 — after everybody had gone home.

Also, the attorney for opponents of the PCH project, Gordon Strauss, informed Mr. Slimak that notice ot the hearing had not been posted in Borough Hall within the 48-hour period required under the sunshine law. That would have been 8 p.m. Monday. Mr. Slimak had posted it Tuesday morning. This became moot, however, when the board could not achieve a quorum.

Wednesday's postponement was only the latest in a series ot freak events that have plagued PCH. Last month, when PCH planned to present its case to the Zoning Board, it was learned that three names had inadvertently been left ott the list ot property-owners entitled to receive notices ot the hearing. Although the

Diane Radcliffe Drops Out Of Borough Council Race

Borough Democrats, who endured a primary battle earlier this year to determine their two candidates for Borough Council, must now select another candidate. Diana Radcliffe has been torced to withdraw trom the race because of a recurring back problem.

That leaves incumbent Barbara Hill on the ticket opposing Republicans Hank Abernathy and Richard Woodbridge, also an incumbent. Under provisions of the state election law, the replacement candidate must be selected by the Democratic municipal committee, consisting of a man and a woman trom each of the Borough's 10 election districts.

Gertrude Dubrovsky, chairman of that committee, said that Democrats interested in running should come forward by next Wednesday. Calf Ms. Dubrovsky at 924-7527 or Mary Perone,

Superintendent Houston Declares War on Legislature over School Aid

"I have never seen an issue like this one in the five years I have been here. In the past we have had these polite little dances with the Legislature. But this time they mugged us. We had the money coming, we should have received it, but at the last minute they held it up.

"When you get mugged you don't feel gentlemanly. If we don't see some movement in the early fall, then we're taking no prisoners. We'll go after their financial support and their voter base. I don't care whether it's Republicans or Democrats. As far as I'm concerned, a plague on both their houses."

Princeton Superintendent Pauf Houston was venting his anger at the State Legislature for axing minimum school aid tor 85 districts (including Princeton, which has lost $524,000), and he ended up making a declaration ot war.

But that is the way the school districts are feeling these days, as administrators and school boards try to juggle budgets to meet the fast-minute shortfaff and the legislators bask in their summer recess. The difference in this fight, said Dr. Houston, "is the level of anger. It exceeds anything I've seen."

In the past week, the Princeton superintendent reported the schools have been tlexing their collective muscle, in the following ways:

- The Princeton Group, an informal coalition of the leaders of the state organizations representing PTAs, administrators, principals, schoof boards, and teachers (named for the site of its meetings but have nothing to do with the Princeton school distrfct) called for an immediate session ot the iegfslature to reinstate all educational funding. "As the leading rabbie rouser, t was invited down," safd Dr. Houston, who added, "There's e greeter sense ot urgency at the state levei than we were seeing in the early part ot the summer."
- The Mercer County School Boards Association voted for immediate reinstatement of alf educational funds and pledged to support any measures that would raise additional revenue for the state budget. Dr. Houston commented that other districts in the county which were not affected by the most recent cutbacks, incfuding Trenton, Hamilton, and East Windsor, "are pushing the same as we are." These districts, he added, were hit by earlier cutbacks.
- The rally discussed by the 23 districts meeting in Princeton as a means of focusing public attention on the issue may now be taken over by the Princeton Group and "may be tar bigger" than previously planned, said Superintendent Houston.
- Princeton, like other districts affected by the cutbacks, is taking steps to form a political action group of citfzens who can wiefd some clout with the legislators, by withhofding campaign contributions, for example. "That's ultimately the way it's going to go, unless the Legislature suddenly has a revefation and changes its actions," said Dr. Houston, "but from what I have seen this summer I'm not optimistic." Princeton has put out some feelers tor people who would serve on such a committee, but a final list is not expected until after the summer vacation.

Amidst all this political lobbying, the idea of Princeton joining the Fairfield School District in a class action suit against the state has fallen out of favor – at least with Dr. Houston. "As we've gotten into this issue, and analyzed the ins and outs, I'm personally leaning away from the suit," said the Superintendent. "I'm concerned that if it goes to the courts, then it might take the pressure off the legislators.

"Even if we won the suit, then it would mean reallocation of existing funds, and the solution would still be to go back to the Legislature to determine how the reallocation is made," he continued.

The 23 school districts that met in Princeton already have seen some progress as a result of the political hardball they have decided to play. Angered by the apparent low level of support from the New Jersey School Boards Association, the 23 districts all agreed to withhold their annual dues. Princeton held back $11,000.

Since then, said Dr. Houston, the school board association has claimed to be "working behind the scenes" and has promised to "take a higher profile" in the fight.

'Out of Control.' "Ultimately," he predicted, "we will pay the dues."

In the meantime, Dr. Houston said, "the school boards association is not happy with us. But it's symbolic that the local districts are getting out of control over this issue."

Dr. Houston saw virtually no chance that the Legislature would meet again until its next regularly scheduled session, September 13. Should the effort to restore state aid fail, the Princeton schools will have to account for the missing $524,000.

Since those funds amount to about five or six percent of the total budget, the question of how to cope with the deficit does not have to be made immediately, said Dr. Houston. "We'll either have to cut the budget or pass it on to the taxpayers or some combination of those two."

'Cutting Muscle.' Where would cuts be made? "I don't know," sighed the superintendent. "The trouble is that the so-called fat is no longer there. We gave up driver's ed years ago. We closed a school. You're talking about cutting muscle now. We will try to be very cautious."

At the moment Dr. Houston seemed more intent on putting some heat on the legislators, in hopes that no cuts would have to be made at all. "We're encouraging local people to contact their state senators and assemblymen," the superintendent said. "They cut the public schools but they didn't cut a penny of private school funding. I feel they're holding the children hostage."

State Legislature Report Card

(Editor's note: The following "Legislative Report Card on Education" was prepared by the Superintendent of Schools in Point Pleasant.)

HISTORY: Since the inception of Thorough-and-Efficient legislation, you have been strong on mandates and weak on funding them.

ENGLISH: Your rhetoric is amazing, but your written explanations of the reasons for your actions lack clarity and logic.

SCIENCE: Your devising and revising of formulas lacks timing and broad application. More research required.

MATHEMATICS: Manipulation of figures outstanding. Problems involving revenues and expenditures never balance. Accounting fundamentals not yet acquired.

PHYSICAL EDUCATION: Verbal gymnastics strong. Dancing around issues demonstrates clever footwork. Batting average consistently high in failing to provide adequate funding. Lack of teamwork as evidenced by your failure to work with State Board of Education, Commissioner of Education and local Boards of Education, among others.

HOME ECONOMICS: Your patchwork budget not pretty or of practical use. You make a stew of most mandates.

INDUSTRIAL ARTS: Electrical: you have short-circuited too many valid projects. Woodwork: your lathe work shows you pare too much in some areas, not enough in others.

ATTITUDE: Callous and indifferent.

EVALUATIVE SUMMARY: The comments listed above after each subject, clearly show that your evaluation indicates neither thorough nor efficient progress in your educational program.

924-3741. The deadline for filing with the election clerk is September 17 and the municipal committee hopes to make its decision by the beginning of September.

One Borough Democrat with a demonstrated interest in the job is Pierina Thayer, who lost in the primary race. "If Pierina Thayer is interested she will be considered," said Ms. Dubrovsky. Another interested bystander will be Councilwoman Hill. "Certainly she will have some input," said the municipal committee chairman. "But she has no veto power."

AIRPORT STILL IN AIR

Montgomery Weighs Action. Montgomery Township Committee has named an ad hoc fact-finding group to investigate what might be done to save Princeton Airport, if the airport should be saved at all.

The airport, located on Route 206 just over the line from Princeton Township in Montgomery, is for sale -- asking price $1.5 million -- and most aviation experts believe that any private purchaser of the facility would have to use it for some commercial purpose other than an airport to make money on the investment Princeton Airways, the commuter service that operated out of Princeton Airport, has already ceased operations because of an unfavorable balance sheet.

"There have been no conclusions reached -- this is just a start-up to see what the possibilities of saving it are -- if it is desirable to save it," said Peter Rayner, Montgomery Township administrator. Cathy Frank, a Township committeewoman and deputy mayor, chairs the fact-finding group.

Montgomery officials have had one meeting with state representatives, including Arlene B. Feldman, director of aeronautics. "We'd like to see some action," said Ms. Feldman, "but there's not much we can do other than offer assistance."

The issue undoubtedly will become a political issue. At a committee meeting two weeks ago, said Mr. Rayner, "a number of people spoke out -- some were in favor; some were not."

Owner Pessimistic. The owner of the airport, David Van Dyke, remained pessimistic about the possibility of a municipal takeover of the facility. "It's essentially stalled," he said. Mr. Van Dyke, however, seemed only slightly closer to his goal of selling the airport.

"I'm no closer unless I want to take either of the two ridiculously low offers that I have now," he said. The asking price, he added, is $500,000 less than the appraised value. "We're not at the point where we have to take the first or second offer. There's been quite a bit of interest in the property as a result of all this publicity."

Little of that interest, however, has been for maintaining the property as an airport. "There was one potential airport prospect who was very interested for a very short period of time," said Mr. Van Dyke. The two offers came from developers, not airport people, he added.

THREE DIE AT MERCER

First Fatal Accident. At Mercer County Airport, three area men died Sunday in what was described as the first fatal accident in the 39-year history of the airport, located off Interstate 95 in Ewing Township.

The victims were Roger T. Smolar, 39, owner of the MacDonald's Restaurant at the Quaker Bridge Mall and an FM radio personality with the air name of Don Steele; Thomas R. Edel, 48, executive director of the New Jersey Retail Merchants Association; and Anthony Ames, 26, a chemist for Merck and Company. Mr. Smolar and Mr. Edel lived within a few doors of each other in Titusville. Mr. Ames was a North Brunswick resident.

Police said that the accident occurred after the plane in which the men were flying, a four-seat Beechcraft Sierra which had been rented at the airport, apparently lost power and glided into a stand of trees at 11:01 a.m. Officials believed that Mr. Smolar was flying the plane, but that Mr. Edel also was a licensed flyer and Mr. Ames was a student flyer.

NO MEETING THIS WEEK

For Township Committee. Township Committee will take a holiday from its normal round of three meetings a month and not meet this Wednesday as originally scheduled. In fact, Committee will not meet for three weeks until the next regularly scheduled time on Wednesday, September 8, at 8 in the Valley Road Building.

Before departing on vacation, Committee members acted on a number of items pending. They adopted a revision to the housing code in ways relating to fire safety provisions. They gave the green light to a drive-in bank at Princeton Shopping Center by adopting an ordinance which now permits one such facility where none had been allowed before.

Committee also appropriated $189,000 for the reconstruction of a portion of Rerrontown Road from Herrontown Lane east to Snowden Lane, a distance of 3,100 feet. The project must go out to bid, and the results be reviewed and accepted on September 8, before work can begin.

Also on September 8 will be the public hearing of an ordinance that will prohibit parking on the east side of Province Line Road from Pretty Brook Road to Audubon Lane, as well as an ordinance that will permit the rehabilitation of the Pretty Brook sewer system. The parking ban was requested by residents who complain that since the closing of the bridge, the road has become a haven for young people who park and party on what is now a dead-end street.

Water Rates to Rise. In other business, Committee took note of a petition by Elizabethtown Water Company to the Board of Public Utilities for a rate increase of 25 percent, or $12.4 million. this amounts to 61 cents per week or $2.63 a month for the average residential customer.

In its petition, the Water Company says that one-third of the increase will be needed to meet the increased cost of purchasing water if the New Jersey Water Supply Authority is successful in its application to increase charges for operating and maintaining Spruce Run and Round Valley Reservoir and the Delaware and Raritan Canal.

The recently created state authority has asked for increases of 71 percent. Elizabethtown has objected to this increase, and says that if it is successful in its opposition, it will in turn reduce its own request for relief. The balance of the rate hike request is sought to finance plant additions and improvements.

In addition, Suburban Transit is asking for fare increases on its Princeton to New Brunswick, Dunellen and Atlantic City route. (See following story).

Committee agreed to refund Princeton University $97,176.89 in overpayment of taxes on nine properties owned by the University. The overpayment was caused by successful 1981 tax appeals. The first half of 1982 payments

HOME IS RANSACKED

On Western Way. The living room and bedrooms of a Western Way home were ransacked in daylight Friday by a thief or thieves who left with jewelry, pewter and cameras worth $1,925.

Det. Ronald Holliday, who investigated, reported that the home was entered between 10 a.m. and 4:45 by someone who pried open a door. Missing are three cameras, a pewter sugar and creamer set, two pewter mugs and jewelry valued at $475. Also, a blue leather suitcase which police believe was used to carry the articles away.

Someone removed a screen and then climbed through an open kitchen window to enter a Humbert Street home early Saturday morning between 12:30 and 2 a.m. The intruder departed after taking a purse from a kitchen table.

The $30 brown leather purse was later found by a resident on the front porch of a Jefferson Road home. The contents were intact, including a silver cross and pen, but the $50 cash was missing.

The victim had heard a noise, police said, but thought nothing of it and went back to sleep. When she was awakened again at 2 by a phone call she noticed the purse was missing.

A rock was used to break a living room window to enter a Springdale Road home last week. Although there is evidence that all the rooms were searched, police don't know what is missing because the owner is away.

The entry was discovered Friday morning by a person who was checking the home.

Two Bicycles Stolen. Two bicycles were stolen last week from inside buildings in the Borough.

A 10-speed model valued at $200 was taken last week from a locked apartment of a John Street resident. Police report the thief had reached through a broken front door window pane that had been broken prior to the entry. The victim reported the theft Sunday morning.

In mid-week, someone entered the hallway of a Witherspoon Street apartment building and departed with a 3-speed bicycle valued at $169. The owner told police that she had left her unlocked bike in the hallway at 8 in the morning but the door to the building was supposed to have been locked. Saddle bags on the victim's bike contained clothing and other articles valued at $51.

Great Wall Breached. The Great Wall Chinese Restaurant in the Princeton Shopping Center was entered during the night last week, and approximately $200 in cash is missing.

Police said that entry was gained by way of a roof duct after first breaking a grate. The intruder exited through a rear kitchen door.

Three Township homes were also broken into including one on Philip Drive where approximately $200 in jewelry was taken from a bedroom and a $275 bicycle from a garage. A rear window screen was pried from its frame to enter an unlocked window and gain access to the house. Police add it appears that tree trimming shears were used to cut a lock chain securing the bicycle.

An unknown amount of jewelry and some small items were taken from a Sycamore Lane home Saturday between 8 in the morning and 11:45 p.m.

The entry was discovered when the owners returned home to find the front door chained from the inside. After getting inside the house by prying open a rear kitchen window, the intruder then ransacked the bedrooms. Police are waiting for an inventory from the victims.

Another weekend theft took place at a Halsey Street apartment where some cassette tapes and a plastic cassette box worth about $10 are missing. The entry was discovered by 1 Sunday morning when the victim returned home.

Once again, a rear screen had been forced to enter an unlocked window.

Borough police report an attempted entry at the Van Dommelen clock shop on Witherspoon Street

According to police, a witness saw two juveniles break two 6 x 12-inch panes in the front door but they were thwarted by the lock and couldn't get inside. When the victim from his apartment upstairs heard glass breaking, he yelled at the youths and they fled.

Sgt Peter Hanley and Ptl. John Reading investigated, after police were called at 2:05 Sunday morning.

FIELDS MEDAL AWARDED

To Two Professors Here. Two Princeton residents have won the prestigious Fields Medal, the major prize of the international mathematical community and generally recognized as the equivalent of the Nobel prize awarded in other disciplines.

They are William P. Thurston, 106 FitzRandolph Road, a 35-year old professor of mathematics at Princeton University, and Shing-Tung Yau, 33, a professor at the Institute for Advanced Study. The prizes are awarded every four years. In 1978 another University mathematics professor, Charles L. Fefferman, received a Fields Medal.

The awards, established in 1932 by a bequest from Canadian mathematician

John Charles Fields, were scheduled to be presented at the opening session of the 19th International Congress of Mathematicians in Warsaw this month. Political turmoil in Poland, however, caused the meeting's organizers to postpone the Congress and the formal awarding of the medals for one year.

Professor Thurston has influenced a number of fields of mathematics, particularly three-dimensional geometry and topology, the study of geometric figures that remain unchanged even when they are distorted. His methods are fundamental to the understanding of complex mathematical problems involved in three-dimensional manifolds. These geometric objects require three coordinates in order to locate a point, just as two coordinates - - latitude and longitude -- are needed to locate a point on the earth's surface.

In 1978 Professor Thurston received the National Science Foundation's Alan T. Waterman Award for "his outstanding contributions in several fields of mathematics." Two years earlier the American Mathematical Society presented him with the Oswald Veblen Prize in Geometry for his work in foliations.

Born and raised in Washington, D.C., he received his B.A. in 1967 from New College, Sarasota, Florida, and his Ph.D. in 1972 from the University of California at Berkeley. He did research at the Institute for Advanced Study from 1972 to 1973 and taught at Massachusetts Institute of Technology as an assistant professor from 1973 to 1974. He was named professor of mathematics at Princeton in 1974 That same year he was awarded an Alfred P. Sloan Fellowship for research in mathematics. In 1978 Professor Thurston was elected to the American Academy of Arts and Sciences. He spent last year at the University of Colorado participating in a special program in geometry and topology He and his wife, Rachel, have three children.

Dr. Yau was born in Swatrow, China in 1949, and holds a Ph.D. from the University of California, Berkeley. He has taught at SUNY in Stony Brook, Stanford University, and at the University of California in Berkeley. A member of the Institute for Advanced Study in 1971-72 and 1979-80, he was appointed to the faculty of the Institute's School of Mathematics in 1980.

Since joining the Institute, Dr. Yau has also received the Veblen Prize of the American Mathematical Society (AMS), the John J. Carty Medal from the National Academy of Sciences (1981), and the Humbolt award granted by the Federal Republic of Germany (1982).

LIBRARY MYSTERY

Who Stole Jewelry Pouch? A flannel jewelry pouch containing items worth an estimated $1,000 was stolen Thursday afternoon from the Public Library.

The victim, a Belle Mead resident, told police that she had been in possession of her purse during the time of the theft -- 3 to 4 p.m. -- but that a zipper was partially open. Among the items she lost was a strand of pearls, charm bracelet, a 14K gold class ring and a pair of earrings.

A 21-year old Princeton University student listed the theft of her blue nylon knapsack which she had placed under a tree Thursday while she attended a dance class in Alexander Hall from 5 to 6:15 p.m. Inside were a red wallet valued at $15 containing $23.40, a check book, bathing suit, towel and change of clothing. Her total loss: $72.40.

A Cedar Grove resident, visiting on Dodds Lane Saturday, reported the theft of his orange and blue nylon bag from his unlocked car. He lost a 35mm camera and clothing valued at $150 to $200 Township police placed the theft between 1 Saturday afternoon and 1 a.m. Sunday morning.

A potted orange tree was stolen from the rear patio of a McCosh Circle home between 8 Friday morning and 7 Saturday evening. It is valued at $100.

JOYRIDE IN GOLF CART

13-Year Old Girl Arrested. A 13-year old Township girl was arrested Friday and charged with juvenile deliquency, after she took an electric-powered golf car without permission from the Springdale Golf Club.

The cart was found at 6:12 p.m. turned upside down on College Road where the driver had apparently hit some underbrush, police said, and turned over. She was taken to Princeton Medical Center where she was treated for an injured left leg and released.

Captain John J. Bellow commented that the theft of golf carts from the club grounds has been "an ongoing problem."

Township police last week arrested a 16-year old resident of Jefferson Road and charged him with shoplifting Halazone tablets valued at $4.88 from the Thrift Drug Store in the Princeton Shopping Center.

Morgan C. Reese, 20, was arrested at his home at 70 Lambert Drive Friday evening and later charged with possession of less than 25 grams of marijuana. He was later released in his own recognizance.

Ptl. John Seeley had gone to his home to serve a Borough summons. According to Chief Anthony Pinelli, when the patrolman entered the house he saw Reese sitting on a couch smoking a pipe, the type of which is normally used to smoke marijuana. A small quantity of the drug was found on a table adjacent to Reese, police added.

SOLICITOR ARRESTED

For Selling Magazines. The crackdown by Township police on solicitors who attempt to sell magazines door-to-door in the community without obtaining a permit continues.

Friday afternoon, Kevin A Lee of Lodi, California was arrested on Morgan Place and charged with soliciting magazine sales without first obtaining a permit. He was later released in $100 bail. Police responded after receiving calls from residents in the area.

"It's a constant thing. We get an influx of magazine salesmen in town every year," commented Chief Anthony Pinelli. "They use high pressure and we have gotten many, many complaints."

In addition to high pressure techniques, Chief Pinelli reported that the magazine salesmem -- mostly youths recruited by a company – will have checks made out to an individual name rather than a company; solicit on holidays and as late as 11 p.m. when they have been told to end before dark.

SIX ARE FINED

In Borough Traffic Court. Six Princeton area residents were fined Monday by Judge Russell W. Annich Jr. in Borough traffic court.

Lori A Sansone, Woodward Drive, Belle Mead, and Beverly A Zissman, Acken Park, RD1, each paid $20 for speeding, while careless driving cost Beth A. Ogilvie, 11 Woodland Drive, $25.

Janina Reich, 22 Hoagland Drive, Belle Mead, was fined $10 as an unlicensed driver; Richard Loatman, 115 White Pine Circle, Lawrenceville, $15, overdue inspection; and Joseph E. Willis, 1361 Lawrence Road, Lawrenceville, $20, no name and address on commercial vehicle.

In Township traffic court last week, Peter M. Nelson, 2 Elm Road, was fined $45 for speeding. Failure to give a proper signal cost Jeffrey S. Brunner, Old Trenton Road, Cranbury, $40.

CAR HITS CYCLIST

During Rainstorm. A 12-year old bicyclist was struck early last week at the Route 206-Mountain Avenue traffic light intersection during a rainstorm.

Patrick Esposito, 12, 196 John Street, was treated at Princeton Medical Center for a broken right arm. The driver, Walter Poole, 26, 906 Great Road, was stopped in the lane on 206 at the Mountain Avenue traffic light. It was raining very hard at the time.

When he started up again, his car struck the rear wheel of young Esposito's cycle as he was crossing the highway in a crosswalk. The incident was not investigated by police.

FARE HIKE PROPOSED

For New York Buses. Suburban Transit Corp has filed a tariff with the Interstate Commerce Commission proposing increases in interstate fares, effective September 13, as follows: One-way fares will be increased 7.5 percent. Twenty-trip tickets will be: Franklin Park, $66.85; Hightstown, East Windsor, Kingston and Twin Rivers, $70.95; West Windsor, $74.25; and, Princeton, Rocky Hill, $78.40. All proposed fares will be rounded off, when necessary, to the nearest multiple of five cents.

The increases in fares are necessary due to increased costs for wages, employee benefits, materials, supplies, utilities, insurance, and other items, according to a company statement.

Under the proposed fare increase, a round-trip ticket from Princeton to New York, now costing $8.35, would increase to $9.25. A one-way ticket that now costs $4.40 would be raised to $4.75.

Commuters do not have to stand idly by while the bus company raises its fares Though protests are rarely successful, the law provides that any interested person may contact the Interstate Commerce Commission and request suspension of the increased fares. The Commission's rules require that one copy of the protest shall be filed at its office in Washington, D.C., at least 12 days before the effective date of the increased fares and should indicate in what respect the fares are considered objectionable. The rules also require that a copy of the protest be simultaneously mailed to Suburban Transit Corp., 750 Somerset Street, New Brunswick, 08901

ZONING CASES PILE UP

Six on August 26 Agenda. Having already missed one chance to hear the PCH housing application (see story, page 1), the Borough Zoning Board will try again next Thursday, August 26, at 8 p.m. in Borough Hall. The meeting will not be over quickly -- six items are listed on the agenda and several, including PCH, could consume the entire night. The board anticipates a special meeting early in September to help clear the logjam

One reason for the overflow has been the absence of members due to summer vacations. That problem persists and this week the Zoning Board secretary, Frank Slimak, was continuing his efforts to round up all available board members. "Right now I'm searching for one more," he said Tuesday morning.

The PCH use variance requires five affirmative votes, so that any meeting attended by fewer than five board members would prove useless for PCH Mr. Slimak was hopeful that five would be in line by next week, though even then PCH would be required to bat a perfect 1.000 in order to gain approval.

The Zoning Board must also provide the site plan for the addition and expansion of the Jewish Center on Nassau Street. That action requires the presence of four board members, three of whom must approve. If the PCH proposal gets postponed again, the board might turn to the Jewish Center plans.

A relatively simple application, which would be considered after the board resolves either the PCH or Jewish Center cases, is the request of William and Bessie Shanfield to allow an addition to their single-family house at 12 Pelham Street.

Johnson Sculptures Spotted. After that, the agenda lists three more cases, each of which requires five affirmative votes. Sandy Zeitler of the Princeton Telephone Answering Service at 203-205 Nassau Street seeks a hardship variance to permit the rental of six apartment units on the upper floors of that building.

News Of The THEATRES

TRIPLE FEATURE SET

At Summer Cinema, Science fiction is the featured genre in this week's Summer Cinema double-bill of "Altered States" and "Invasion of the Body Snatchers," with screenings at 7:30 and 9:20 in Kresge Auditorium Wednesday through Sunday. And on Friday and Saturday, the double-feature will become a triple-feature, with the addition of another science fiction classic, "Alien."

Written by the late Paddy Chayevsky and directed by Ken Russell, "Altered States" is a mixture of psychedelic drug research, surrealism, mumbo-jumbo and pop collage. William Hurt ("Eyewitness" and "Body Heat") plays a Harvard psycho-physiology professor intent on probing into his own brain to discover the memory of early evolutionary stages stored there Using mind-expanding drugs and immersing himself in immersion tanks, Hurt plays a kind of "hip Dr. Frankenstein" in demonic pursuit of ultimate truth.

In "Invasion of the Body Snatchers," director Philip Kaufman has re-made the 1956 horror classic by Don Siegel. The plot is a familiar one: how an entire populace (San Francisco) is duplicated by mysterious pods, creating a new species devoid of anxiety, but incapable of love. Donald Sutherland plays a public health inspector, Brooke Adams his co-worker and love interest, and Leonard Nimoy (Mr. Spock, of "Star Trek") is a hip psychiatrist.

On Friday and Saturday the "Altered States-Body Snatchers" double feature will be joined, at 11:30 p.m. by Ridley Scott's "Alien," which was the suspense sensation of the summer of 1979. Returning from a routine interstellar mission, the crew of the spaceship "Nostromo" inadvertently lets an alien creature -- virtually indestructible and completely hostile -- invade its ship. The result is a visual and sonic nightmare, as, one by one, the alien stalks the members of the crew throughout the confines of the spacecraft. Director Scott, whose latest film is the current "Blade Runner" has a flair for stunning design, and he charges his film with color and emotion. The crew of "Nostromo" includes John Hurt, Yaphet Kotto, Tom

ALLEN, PINTER STAGED

By Street Theatre. Princeton Street Theatre will complete its summer season with two one-act comedy-mysteries: "Death" by Woody Allen and "The Dumbwaiter" by Harold Pinter.

"Death" follows the hilarious misadventures of a character called Kleinman, played by Dick Herron, who is swept into a city-wide manhunt for a maniac killer by an even zanier posse. Kleinman's strange encounters with Anna (Corrine Graff-Krenn), the doctor (Steve Gaissert) and Gina (Denise D'Agostino) make the audience wonder who's really crazy here?

Other cast members include Gary Fuller as Hacker, Jurgen Jones - Leonard Neil as the Man, Rachel Levine as Alice, and Elinor Forman as the maniac. The other players are Deanna Corsover, Rebecca Kramer, Julie Kyle, Scott King, and Sondra Hoedemaker. The director is Sandra Nairn. Denise D'Agostino is stage manager for both plays, with Sallie Weaver as her assistant and Liz Grillo is assistant director.

"The Dumbwaiter" is more British humor. The dialogues between two hit men waiting orders from their mysterious boss create curious, offbeat sketches of a highly unusual situation. The two characters, Ben (Todd Leeuwenburgh) and Gus (Ted Seemuller), will make the viewer roar with laughter while listening to their absurd conversations. This play is under the direction of Judith Stark.

The plays will be performed at the amphitheater in Community Park North at 8 p.m. on consecutive Friday and Saturdays, August 20, 21, 27 and 28 and on Sunday, August 22. There will also be a show at the Wycoff School in Plainsboro on Thursday, August 26, at 7 p.m. Donations are requested. For information call 924-7452 or 466-1482.

AUDITIONS PLANNED

For 'Guys and Dolls.' Mercer County Community College Theatre will hold open auditions for the Frank Loesser musical, "Guys and Dolls," on Tuesday, August 31, and Wednesday, September 1, from 7 to 9 p.m.

The show will be directed by William J. Flynn, chairman of the Visual and Performing Arts Division of MCCC, and will be staged at the college during the month of October.

Auditions will take place in the Kelsey Theatre on the college's West Windsor Campus. Anyone 14 years of age or older is invited to try out. Actors, singers, dancers, musicians and technical crew are needed.

For audition requirements, call the Cultural Events Office at 586-4800, extension 581.

MUSIC In Princeton

JAZZ TRIO TO PLAY

At Community Park North. Crystal Silence, a classic jazz trio, will appear at Community Park North on Thursday at 7:30

The trio features Adam Spiegel on electric piano, Pat Wristen on trumpet and flueglehorn, and Tom McMiltan on bass. Joining the trio for this concert will be Marc McDonald on alto saxaphone, Gene Lewin on drums and Clyde Spillinger on guitar.

The music to be played by these Princeton High School graduates will be a combination of contemporary jazz-rock fusion and straight-ahead jazz. The program will include the music of Weather Report, Chick Corea, and Miles Davis, as well as an assortment of jazz standards.

This Thursday at noon, a special edition of the Summer Sounds series will be featured at 185 Nassau Street. The Export Band, a progressive jazz band, will perform in a lunchtime concert in the park next to Thomas Sweets. This concert is made possible by contributions from Thomas Sweets and Cox's Market.

The last free concert at Community Park will be held Thursday, August 26, and will feature the "Ivy-League rasta music'" of the Groceries. There are no raindates for these last two concerts

---

FOLK SINGER DUE

In Concert at Boy Choir. The Princeton Folk Music Society will feature Eric Bogle in concert on Tuesday at 8 at the American Boy Choir School, Lambert Drive off Rosedale Road.

Eric Bogle has been described as the best contemporary folk song writer of the 70's. His native Scottish wit lends an edge to his observations of life around him, producing songs with edges which bite deeply and accurately. His most famous songs are "The Band Played Waltzing Matilda," "No Man's Land," and "Leaving Nancy."

Those attending are asked to bring their own chairs.

Admission is $4 for adults, $3.50 for students, $3 for Society members, $2 for children and senior citizens. Children under 5 are admitted free. There are no advance sales. Memberships are available at the door For further information call (215) 464-6031 after 6.

GROUPS TO PLAY

At MDA Fundraiser. The Regents, known for their popular rock recordings, will appear at the Italian Festival Saturday, August 28, on the Franklin Township municipal grounds. A fundraiser for the Muscular Dystrophy Association, the festival will run from 1 to 10 p.m. The raindate is Sunday, August 29.

Scheduled to appear at 6 p.m., the Regents will provide the nostalgic sounds of the 50's and 60's, including a medley of Beach Boys' and Four Seasons' song hits.

At 2 p.m., The Innocenti, a soft rock group, will perform and offer comedy routines. Songs III, an Italian combo led by vocalist Lynn Lazzara, will appear at 8 along with Wally on keyboard and Pat on drums. They will offer contemporary songs, including the works of Billy Joel and Barry Manilow, some Sinatra and some jazz.

Admission to all the concerts is free, and donations are welcome, with proceeds going to MDA. Bring blankets or lawn chairs.

A pig roast will highlight the food selections, which include sausage and peppers, clams on the half-shell, spaghetti, meatballs, hot dogs, hamburgers, submarines, pizza and calzone, along with wine, beer, soda, espresso, and capuccino. A special feature is Ferrara's pastries from Grand Street, Little Italy.

The festival is being sponsored by the New Jersey Trade Waste Association, a group which has been helping more than 100 solid waste collecting businesses with interpreting government regulations since 1976

To volunteer time the day of the festival or for information about the work of the Muscular Dystrophy Association, call Mike Blishak at MDA, (201) 257-5161.

Housing Opportunity
To the Editor of Town Topics:

The Older Women's League is interested in the health and welfare of all Mercer County residents. In particular, we are concerned about the well-being of financially struggling older and disabled individuals.

Princeton has shown great foresight in providing housing for the elderly and low and middle income individuals and families. Once again Princeton has an excellent opportunity to offer housing to the aged and disabled through a HUD grant. But there is a limited time frame within which these funds can be used. Use of delay tactics and political maneuvers will not only kill the Elm Road site, but spells death to the entire project. For the enlightened community of Princeton, this is an irrecoverable loss of time and money and an unconscionable disservice to our fellow citizens who need special housing.

We support the Princeton that not only speaks, but acts with a social conscious.

"An Unsightly Eyesore."
To the Editor of Town Topics:

The following letter has been sent to the Borough and Township Mayors, the School Board, and the Regional Planning Board:

On August 6th and 7th -- with no warning to adjoining property owners -- an unsightly eyesore was constructed on the area of the High School field immediately adjoining residential properties on Moore Street. This included the denuding of pine trees, cutting one down, erecting tall, ugly poles, trapezes, a wooden wall for climbing, and more -- for a new program called "Outward Bound."

Residential properties have been devaluated overnight. In addition to the blight to the neighborhood, what will the noise level be when it is in use? Moore Street and the privately-maintained driveway leading from Henry Avenue to the High School field will be subjected to increased traffic and parking problems.

Surely a more suitable location can be found for this project and we ask that steps be taken by the School Board to accomplish this and that the recently-constructed structures be removed.

We also ask the Regional Planning Board of the Princeton Communities who monitor and control construction by private owners, developers, hospitals, and the like to include the protection of the community from offensive and hazardous development on public property

Lebanon Aid Sought.
To the Editor of Town Topics:

The tiny country of Lebanon has been subjected to terror and destruction for many years, but in recent weeks the devastation has reached overwhelming proportions. And nowhere is the damage more pervasive than in the historic city of Beirut.

All of us pray for an end to the destruction, and it cannot come too soon. Our concern in this message is with the massive task of reconstruction and reconciliation in Lebanon, as well as with the elemental human needs that must be sustained.

For more than a hundred years, a major force for enlightenment and constructive enterprise in Lebanon has been the American University of Beirut. Founded in 1866, A.U.B. is now an independent nosectarian and nonpolitical institution which provides training at various levels in liberal arts, engineering, medicine, public health, nursing, agriculture, business and management, and general education.

The Medical School and Hospital of American University of Beirut provide the highest level of health care in the region. Although developed primarily as an academic and teaching hospital, in the current crisis the A.U.B. Hospital has provided emergency and definitive care to thousands of needy casualties, and the Hospital's mission in this regard is likely to increase in the weeks ahead. Never have the A.U.B. and its Hospital been more in need of financial support.

It seems fitting at this time that those of us who are concerned with the crisis in Lebanon should want to express our support for the American University of Beirut. Certainly there is no better example of a constructive and effective institution in that part of the world, and no better expression of American good will and concern for the people of Lebanon. We urge your generous support of A.U.B., now faced with a massive task of reconstruction.

The address for contributions is American University of Beirut (or American University of Beirut Hospital), 380 Madison Avenue, New York 10017.

Nancy Altman and Ingrid Gold, owners of the building at 34 Witherspoon Street, require conditional use authorization to permit the conversion of several residential apartments into office space for architect Michael Graves, who rents space there.

Finally, the First National Bank seeks a use variance to allow the placement of Seward Johnson sculptures on the small park it has created next to its office in the Jugtown area of Nassau Street. Several of Mr. Johnson's lifelike bronzes are in place near the bank – their presence does not violate any zoning law.

Several others, including two frisbee players and a workman sitting on a bench eating his lunch, have been removed from the adjoining lot while the Zoning Board ponders the technicalities of the law. Whether those pieces are ever returned to Nassau Street is another question. A Princeton couple, William and Artis Phillips of 60 Meadowbrook Drive, report that they spotted the offending pieces on a recent visit to the campus of Yale University. Depending on one's artistic sensibility, Princeton's loss is Yale's gain, Princeton's gain is Yale's loss.

TEST MAKER TESTED

ETS Praised, Cautioned. For the first time in 35 years, Educational Testing Service has opened its internal procedures to public scrutiny. An independent committee reported that ETS is fulfilling its pledge to be more responsive to the public, but cautioned that some improvements should be made in testing procedures.

"We find ETS's effort to maintain and improve the quality of fairness of testing well conducted. We know of no other testing organization with anything comparable," reported the committee. "The ETS system of auditing its work is an admirable component of ETS's commitment to public accountability; we applaud ETS's intent to be publicly open about activities in which the public clearly has a legitimate interest, even though ETS is a private organization." The committee is composed of leading figures from universities, industry, and national educational organizations, and includes former U.S. Commissioner of Education Harold Howe II as chairman.

ETS President Gregory R Anrig commended the work of the committee, noting that its report is a reflection of ETS's commitment to openness in testing. "ETS is fully committed to making the improvements suggested by the visiting committee," Mr. Anrig said.

The report resulted from an extensive study of how well ETS monitors itself. The report recommended changes in procedures for tighter controls over the misuse of tests and greater efforts to inform the public about the proper use of tests.

The visiting committee was established by the ETS Board of Trustees in October, 1981, acting on Mr. Anrig's recommendation, to review ETS compliance with its own "Standards for Quality and Fairness," which cover such areas as accountability, confidentiality of data, product accuracy, test use and the technical quality of tests.

Abuses Noted. Among its recommendations, the committee suggested that present standards "do not give sufficient weight to ETS's responsiblity to educate the public about how its tests might be used and abused. We suggest that concern for the general public's understanding be given greater prominence...."

ETS was commended for establishing "procedures by which fair and appropriate test use can be promoted and misuse can be discouraged or eliminated," and the committee urged "vigor in pursuit of this important obligation." The report contains a total of 17 recommendations for changes or improvements in the audit procedure.

PEACE MARCH HIGHLIGHT

Of Trip to Russia. The Rev. Robert Moore, coordinator of the Princeton-based Coalition for Nuclear Disarmament and chairperson of the New Jersey Nuclear Freeze Campaign, has returned from a three week visit to the Soviet Union.

Mr. Moore was in the U.S.S.R. as a resource person for a peace and friendship tour sponsored by Promoting Enduring Peace, Fellowship of Reconciliation, Womens' International League for Peace and Freedom, American Friends Service Committee, and The Nation magazine. One hundred and sixty five United States citizens toured ten major Soviet cities, participating in programs and dialogues with Friendship Societies in several of the cities.

Mr. Moore also took part in the first western-initiated peace march ever to be permitted in the U.S.S.R. Initiated by womens' groups in Scandanavia in early July, the march entered the Soviet Union in late July. Thousands of Soviets participated in the march which concluded with an international rally in Vienna on August 6, the 37th anniversary of the atom bombing of Hiroshima.

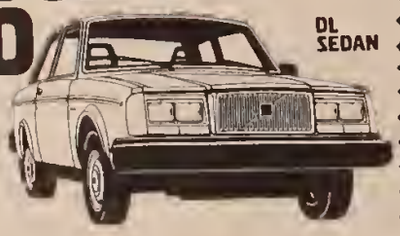
TEST DRIVE A VOLVO. YOU WON'T BE SWAYED EITHER WAY.



Heavy stabilizers front and rear keep Volvo "roll" to a minimum when cornering. Front wheels independently suspended by McPherson struts and rack and pinion steering give you predictable steering control. So when you change lanes at high speed, Volvo goes where you point it.

If your car doesn't handle this well, change direction. And come to our place for a new VOLVO.

"I want an account that pays money market rates and lets me write checks for any amount."

Introducing the Security MoneyMover® Account.

Before you invest a dime anywhere, you should know about a new account that will make you think twice about money market funds.

It's called the MoneyMover Account, from Security.

It earns money like a money market fund, without all of the bothersome restrictions of a money market fund. Best of all, you can open your MoneyMover Account for as little as $2,000.

Here's how your Security MoneyMover works.

Everyday, the MoneyMover scans your current checking balance and automatically "moves" any money above $2,000 into a Repurchase Agreement that pays money market rates. (That rate is based on the Donoghue 7-Day money market fund average, and is guaranteed for a full week!)

Total Liquidity.

Unlike most money market funds, which require at least a $500 minimum for deposits and withdrawals, you can write checks for any amount on the balance in your MoneyMover Account. What's more, there are no service charges as long as you maintain a combined balance of $1,000. (If the combined balance falls below $1,000 there is a $5 fee per month.)

Rate Hotline: 800-257-5370

Funds up to $2,000 are insured by the F.S.L.I.C. Funds over $2,000 in your Repurchase Agreement are not insured but are backed by U.S. Government Securities. Investments in Repurchase Agreements are limited to $99,900

Move Up To The MoneyMover.

Stop by your nearest Security office and find out more about the account that's giving money market funds a run for their money. Or tear out the coupon for more information.

The new MoneyMover Account, from Security.

It doesn't make a lot of demands, just a lot of money.

Act Now!

Open your MoneyMover Account by filling out the coupon or stopping by any Security office. Or call collect: 609-629-8886 and ask for the MoneyMover Department.

march in Kiev was definitely the highlight of my stay in the U.S.S.R., and I feel it represents a major breakthrough in the effort to build a truly international nuclear disarmament movement," commented Mr. Moore. He joined the march as it went through Kiev, capital of the Ukranian Republic. "I was particularly impressed, and somewhat surprised by the even-handed, non-ideological nature of the slogans used during the march."

Several of the speeches, which were translated into both English and French, were a bit ideological, but on the whole the thrust was against nuclear weapons anywhere on Earth, Mr Moore added.

"One negative development which tempered my positive reaction to the Kiev demonstration was the news that members of a new, independent peace group in Moscow continue to be arrested and harrassed. When we asked the Friendship groups about this disturbing development, most of them had not heard of it (since it was not reported in most of the Soviet press) and the few who had, said they were dissidents promoting anti-Soviet propoganda. This was an indicator to me that the U.S.S.R. continues to be a closed and tightly controlled society," Mr Moore cautioned.

The Soviet host of the peace march was the Soviet Peace Committee, a government-sanctioned peace group with 40 million members. The Peace Committee had earlier sponsored demonstrations involving hundreds of thousands in the last week of May, immediately preceding the U.N.'s Special Session on Disarmament.

"I am convinced after my visit that the Soviet people want to preserve peace at all costs, especially after their loss of 20 million people during World War II. Even today, many people weep when they discuss war losses, in which nearly every Soviet family lost one member," he said

$400,000 AWARDED

To University Engineers. Princeton University has received a grant totaling $400,000 over a period of four years from the Cummins Engine Company to support fundamental research on engine combustion in the Department of Mechanical and Aerospace Engineering.

The grant will facilitate and accelerate research and graduate education under the direction of Professor Frediano V. Bracco in the department's Engine Laboratory. In the last 10 years new analytical and experimental techniques have been developed with important practical value in designing more efficient and cleaner engines.

Using the most advanced laser diagnostic instrumentation, Princeton faculty and students have developed and tested detailed mathematical models of engine operation. These results have been widely used by engine manufacturers in the U.S., Europe, and Japan.

The award establishes a cooperative research program between Cummins scientists and engineers at the Columbus, Ind. headquarters and university faculty. Commenting on the grant, Princeton President William G. Bowen said, "We believe that the development of closer ties between industry and the academic community can be of great benefit to both parties. The Cummins award – which encourages both basic research and interaction between the company and the university – is a model partnership"

PHS STUDENTS EXCEL

In Advanced Placement. Educational Testing Service has reported a strong showing by Princeton students on the advanced placement examinations taken this spring. Advanced placement exams are given to determine whether or not high school students should qualify for a college credit on college level advanced placements courses taken during the high school years.

According to Principal John Sakala, 105 of the Princeton High School students received grades on the exams at or above the qualified level. Eighty-four students received grades indicating that they were well qualified or better on some subjects. Forty-one students received grades indicating that they were extremely well qualified. Mr. Sakala indicated that the advanced placement results were one indicator of the high school's ability to challenge students at their level of competence. "We take special pride in offering courses which will be both exciting and rigorous," said Mr. Sakala. "We have quite a few students going to schools such as Yale, Smith, Swarthmore, Williams, Amherst, Harvard, and Princeton. I am quite sure that our consistently strong showing on the advanced placement exams has strengthened Princeton High School's credibility with the college placement officers."

FESTIVAL PLANNED

On Clay Street. Residents of Clay and John Streets who told Borough Council Tuesday night that they are uneasy about the noise-level possibilities of a Street Festival, reached a compromise with the Festival's supporters, ABLEp (Association of Black and Latino Employees at Princeton).

The fair will now be held on Saturday, August 28 — not Sunday, as originally planned. It will be open to the public from noon to 5 p.m.

The day was changed because the fenced-in blacktop area used for basketball, and the focus of recent

RUMMAGE SALE SET

By Halfway House. Bargain items ranging from children's furnishings to appliances will be on sale Sunday, Aug. 29, during a giant outdoor rummage sale to benefit Crawford House, the halfway house for recovering women alcoholics.

The sale is scheduled from 9 to 4 at Princeton Elks Lodge 2129 on Route 518 and The Great Road in Montgomery Township. Other sale items include men's, women's and children's clothing, furniture, jewelry, toys, books, luggage, pictures, ceramic ware and other household goods. Fresh fruits and vegetables at a farmer's market, baked goods and refreshments also will be featured.

Located on 11 acres near Skillman, Crawford House is one of the few halfway houses in New Jersey for recovering women alcoholics that does not charge admission fees. Over 100 women have successfully completed its therapeutic recovery program since it opened in 1979.

The sale is the first event of a major drive to raise funds for modern counseling offices and for program needs not covered by the present budget. This year, government funding, the major source of revenue for Crawford House, has remained stable at $131,000, although expenses have risen to $155,000, the first increase in three years.

The rummage sale will be entirely assisted by volunteers, who will be wearing aprons and caps donated by 206 Hardware & Lucar Hardware Co. for easy identification Donations of sale items are still being accepted.

For more information, call Jeanne Armiger at 924-6975. Mary Elise Cook at 924-0616; or Baroara Rozand at 921-8098.

DIRECTOR NAMED

To Head Council. The board of the Princeton Area Council of Community Services has appointed Linda Eckert executive director.

Ms. Eckert received a bachelor of arts degree in social and cultural anthropology from Northwestern University in 1971. In 1974 she received a master of social work degree in community development and planning from the University of Illinois, Jane Addams Graduate School of Social Work in Chicago. She is a member of the Academy of Certified Social Workers and has served as a graduate field instructor for the Rutgers University School of Social Work.

While in Chicago Ms. Eckert worked for Lutheran Welfare Services of Illinois, the state's largest voluntary social service agency, and Oak Park's New Era, a nonprofit housing rehabilitation organization. From 1975 through 1980 she was director of Community Outreach Program for Senior Adults, a department of the Rutgers Medical School Community Mental Health Center in Piscataway. Ms. Eckert has been assistant director for public information and communication at the Council of Community Services since October, 1981.

She will be the organization's third executive director. A search is now underway for a new part-time assistant director for public information and communication.

TO TEACH CPR

In West Windsor, The Twin W First Aid Squad, Inc. of West Windsor Township is offering a Cardiopulmonary Resuscitation course on Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, August 25, 26 and 27, from 7-10 p.m. This course will be taught by Twin W member Jack Forman at the Twin W Squad House on Everett Drive in Princeton Junction. For information and registration, call Mr. Forman at 799-0639 or Barrie Summers at 799-1810.

Cardiopulmonary Resuscitation is the emergency procedure used to aid victims of heart attack, accident or sudden illness that results in the complete cessation of pulse and respiration. Someone well schooled in this technique learns how to maintain circulation and oxygen exchange until the patient can be moved to a medical facility.

Twin W First Lieutenant Gordon Clayton has reported the Squad's statistics for the month of July, when all four ambulances of the Twin W First Aid Squad were on the road. The ambulances answered 56 calls, of which 42 were emergencies, 6 were transportations and 8 were for other reasons, such as standbys at athletic events. The ambulances traveled 780 miles and were on the road 84 hours. The volunteers of Twin W spent 314 hours on emergency or standby duty.

Twin W transported patients to and-or from seven different medical facilities during the month, and on eight emergency calls it cooperated with the Life Mobiles of Princeton, East Windsor I and Nottingham.

CALYPSO IN PARK

A Free Concert. Mini Carconcert of Caribbean music on Saturday at 7 at Mercer County Park in West Windsor.

The concert is part of a weekly series of free concerts sponsored by the Mercer County Cultural and Heritage Division in cooperation with Local 62 and the Music Performance Trust Fund. The concert series has been produced by Events Unlimited, Inc., a professional events management service in Mercer County.

Mini Carnival, featuring Daniel Barrajanos, offers a blend of Caribbean and calypso music performed on conga and steel drums. The infectious rhythm encourages audience participation and brings a taste of the islands to Mercer County.

The performance will be held adjacent to the park's skating rink. The public is encouraged to come to the

DATE ANNOUNCED

For St. Paul School Opening. St. Paul School will reopen on Wednesday, September 8, at 8 a.m. Kindergarten will begin on Monday, September 13, and be held from 8 to 11

The first three days of school will be half-days, with dismissal at 11 45. New students will report to the school cafeteria. Former students will report to last year's lines and Home-room, from which they will be assigned to this year's classes. Students who are repeating a grade should report to the school cafeteria.

NEW PROGRAM PLANNED

For After School Care. The Princeton After School program (PASP) will open its doors on September 8 with a new program for children in kindergarten through 5th grade.

The after-school activities will run from 2:40 to 5:30 pm, including early closings on Wednesdays, according to the Princeton Regional School calendar, and will be held in the all-purpose room at Riverside School. The program is non-profit and not affiliated with Riverside School.

Mary Gadekar, director of the program, is a fully-accredited elementary school teacher with a degree from Rider College. "Inspiration for the new program came after many years of caring for children in the Princeton area," Mrs. Gadekar said. "With so many more single parent families and families where both parents are working, I believe there is an increasing need for an after-school program that will have some flexibility in scheduling to accomodate both children and their families."

With this idea in mind, Mrs. Gadekar, who has a child at Riverside School, approached Gene Biringer, principal of Riverside School, and arrangements for the program have been worked out.

PASP will offer a variety of indoor and outdoor activities and projects which will provide enrichment, as well as supervision, for the children. In addition, although the program is primarily for children who need a full-time after-school program, Mrs. Gadekar is prepared to accommodate those parents who need more flexibility in their scheduling on a regular basis for their children. The program is open to all elementary school children in the area

SUPPORT GROUP SET

For Spinal Cord Injured. A "Rap Group" for people with spinal cord injuries is drawing members from several counties to St Lawrence Rehabilitation Center in Lawrenceville.

The group was the inspiration of Linda Simmons, who suffered a spinal cord injury four years ago Since 1980 she has been a regular volunteer at the center, serving as a role model, counselor and friend to patients with similar injuries.

The Rap Group meets at St. Lawrence at 7:30 p.m. on the first Tuesday of every month, with guest speakers frequently invited to participate. Doctors, nurses, social workers – all those in contact with spinal cord victims – are encouraged to bring the group to the attention of potential new members. Transportation is available, within a reasonable radius of the Center.

For further information, call the administrator's office, 896-9500

SPACE AVAILABLE

For Energy Exhibits. The Princeton Chamber of Commerce will sponsor "Energy Day '82" on Saturday, October 9, at the West Windsor-Plainsboro High School.

There will be exhibits of all types of alternate energy systems including solar, wind, fusion, geothermal and many more. Authorities in different energy related fields, from universities and research laboratories, will take part in the speakers program.

Exhibit space is still available, and businesses, science buffs, teachers and anyone who works with any type of energy source for home and business improvement and energy efficiency are invited to exhibit.

May, immediately preceding Jay and Debra Hackworth, 6 An exhibit booth, 8' x 6' can be obtained for a minimal contribution of $75. Additional space can be arranged at a discount rate.

Anyone wishing to exhibit should contact the Energy Day Exhibit Committee chairman, Neale Messina, at 452-9200.

Besides the exhibitors and speakers program a special publication will be available. This booklet will contain information on the exhibitors, speakers biographies, a technical glossary, energy hot-line numbers, advertising, energy tips and much more. Advertising space can also be obtained by calling The Chamber of Commerce of the Princeton area at 721-7676.

SIGN UP NOW

For Collectibles Show. "Antiques, Dolls and Collectibles" is the all-encompassing title of the next Kingston Business and Professional Association event, to be held Saturday, September 11 or, if it rains, September 12.

Sponsors are suggesting that people who want to participate sign up now. The pre-registration charge is $10, and inquiries may be made at Owen's Antiques, 77 Main Street, Kingston, 921-7164.

The Association is looking for antique dealers and independent collectors with toys, dolls, primitives, wood items and furniture. Like the July arts-and-crafts festival, it will be a sidewalk day.

REGISTER NOW

For Fall Slimnastics. The Princeton Recreation Department has begun registration for its fall session of Slimnastics, which will be held at the Christ Congregation Church, beginning August 30 and continuing through October 29 on Monday, Wednesday, and Friday mornings from 10 to 11.

The fee is $15 for Princeton Residents, $30 for non-residents. For additional information or to register, call the Recreation Department at 921-9480.

OPEN HOUSE PLANNED

By Birth Center. Familyborn, a center for birth and women's health, will hold a free tour and orientation on Tuesday at noon and again on Wednesday, August 25, at noon.

Children are welcome. Call (201) 821-6200 for information.

CAMP SEASON ENDS

With Rotten Sneaker Contest. The Princeton Recreation Department's summer day camp concluded its season last week with activities for everyone.

The final special event of the 1982 season was the Rotten Sneaker Contest. Sneakers were judged by the counselors on appearance and odor and had to be authentically worn out and rotten. David Goldberg, who had been saving his old, worn-out sneakers, letting them ripen for just this event, easily won first place. Michael Goldberg followed his brother, sharing second place honors with Lena Griffin. Ailey Penningroth and Christian Heron's sneakers were equally rotten as they tied for third-place honors John Haber's sneakers walked home (without John) with the smelliest sneaker award.

Hot air balloon rides kicked off the last week of camp on Monday at the Community Park field. Campers and counselors went up in the colorful hot air balloon as part of balloon day. The free balloon rides were sponsored by Forbes Magazine.

Action continued on Tuesday with the Fun Olympics. Olympic events included a box and bottle cap relay, shoot the nurf contest, ping pong ball throw for distance, tennis ball toss, and frisbee throw. Day Camp olympians, awarded certificates of merit for their conquests, included Emy Finni, Gillian Ashenfelter, Ailey Penningroth, Michael Lipsky, Ian Reddy, Michael Goldberg, Sarah Owens, Vanessa Vandergrift, Andrea Gager, Zoe Miller, John Haber, Lionel Lee, Mike Kemp, and Dylan Penningroth.

The counselors challenged the campers in a kickball game on Wednesday morning. Fifty-four campers met the challenge of the eight counselors by defeating them, 58-42.

The Princeton Recreation Department wishes to thank the counselors who did an exceptional job this summer; Carol Sinkler, Lakay Broadway, Kelly Carter, Doug Linder, John Counts, Sue Albert, Belinda Barton, Gregg Smith, and Larry Ivan.

WINE TASTING PLANNED

To Aid Womanspace. An opportunity to taste and learn about California wines will be held on Friday, August 27. An informal wine tasting will begin at 6 at the Lambertville House. Proceeds from the ticket sales will benefit Womanspace, Inc.

A wine expert who has travelled to the great vineyards of Europe and North America will lead a discussion of the various types of California wines and how to select, order and serve them. A ticket to the event includes wine, cheese and crackers and a ten percent discount on dinners at the Lambertville House that night.

For tickets, phone Womanspace at 394-9000, or write to: Womanspace Wine-Tasting, P.O. Box 7182, Trenton, 08628, and enclose $10 for each ticket. For dinner reservations, phone the Lambertville House, 32 Bridge Street, Lambertville, 397-0202.

Womanspace is a private, non-profit organization which operates a 24-hour emergency shelter for battered women. Donations to Womanspace are tax deductible. Womanspace is supported by the United Way of Princeton and the Delaware Valley United Way as well as the County of Mercer and the state of New Jersey Department of Human Services.

YOUTH WINS AWARD

From English Speaking Union. The Princeton Branch of the English Speaking Union has announced the award of the Sir John Dill Fellowship to Gregory Van Horn, son of Mr. and Mrs. James C. Van Horn, Sutton Place, East Windsor. He is a graduate of the Lawrenceville School and will attend Yale after his year of exchange, 1982-83 at the Westminster School in London.

The Sir John Dill Fellowship of the Princeton Branch ESU, is awarded annually to a boy or girl, living in this area, who has been approved by ESU National for a fellowship providing a year's tuition - board in a British School. The Sir John Dill Fellowship provides supplemental income for travel and expenses while the student is abroad. Gregory is the 21st student to be granted this award by the Princeton Branch ESU.

Last year's Sir John Dill Fellowship winners, Devaki Chandra, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Harish Chandra of Battle Road, and Jeffrey Jamieson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas C. Jamieson of Province Line Road, have recently returned from England. Ms. Chandra was at the King's School in Canterbury and Mr. Jamieson at Marlboro College in Wiltshire.

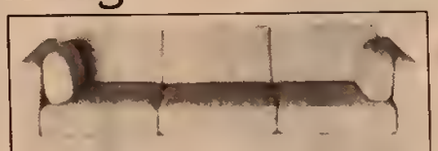
Don't stand for the high cost of sitting.



Now our best-selling styles are specially priced at only... $499
Sofa shown is covered in a beige nylon herringbone tweed. There are also two other styles in other fabrics to choose from. Comparable values on loveseats and sleepers, too.
Thanks to inflation, most prices today can knock you off your feet.
Well at Workbench we've done something about it. We've made a special purchase of the three seating styles you want most. We've featured one here, but the other two are also terrific. And while the price is low the quality is high.
The frames are solid oak. The springs are 8 gauge tempered steel attached front and back by special clips to keep them "springier". The padding is polyurethane foam with a layer of polydacron both top and bottom. And each style is available in a popular fabric.
So hurry because quantities are limited.

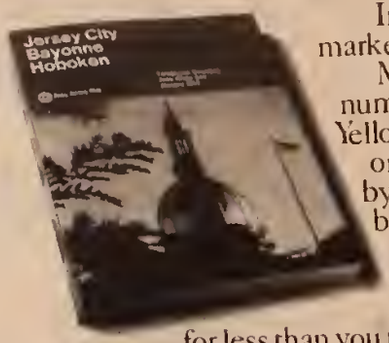
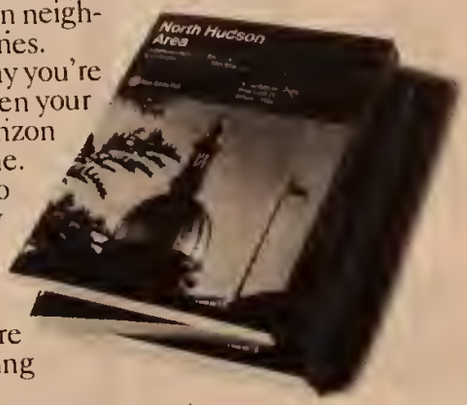
TO IMPROVE SALES, MOVE INTO OTHER AREAS.



Improving sales is as easy as reaching new markets.

Markets you can tap with the nation's number one buying guide. The Bell System Yellow Pages. By advertising under more than one classification in your local directory. Or by advertising in neighboring directories.

Either way you're sure to broaden your business horizon for less than you might imagine.



To sell customers all you have to do is reach them when they're ready to buy. And that's when they pick up the Yellow Pages.

Running your ad in more than one directory simply lets you do more business without drastically increasing the cost of doing business.

And if you have more than one product or service to sell, you should be advertising under more than one classification.

You see, attracting more customers is easy when you know how to use the Yellow Pages.

2 Princeton-Based Men's and Women's Softball Teams To Play in National Tournaments Labor Day Weekend

The town of Princeton may soon be known more for its softball champions than for its academic atmostphere.

Two Princeton-based teams, Sweet Jersey Corn Women's Softball team, which this month became the first team from Mercer County ever to win an Amateur Softball Association women's state championship, and Mike's Tavern, first-place finisher in the Princeton Recreational League, will compete in national tournaments over the Labor Day weekend.

Sweet Jersey Corn, 53-10 overall and winner of four tournaments this season, in addition to its state crown, will be one of 40 teams competing in the ASA Major National Tournament September 3-6, at Marietta, Ga.

Its most recent tournament win took place last weekend when the Corn won the Roadrunners tourney in Morrisville. After winning its first four games, SJC lost a 6-4 decision to Champale but came back to defeat Champale, 5-2, in the championship game.

Clare Baxter pitched all six games for the Corn, while teammates Debbie Breithaupt, the tourney's Most Valuable Player, and Marianne Smith and Donna Nicholson all batted over .500.

Mike's Tavern has been invited, along with other top teams from across the U.S., to participate in the World "B" Tournament in Cincinnati. Mike's posted a 17-3 record in the Princeton league, and won seven of its last nine to reach the playoffs of the Mercer Major League, generally recognized by the softball cognoscente as the premier softball league in the state.

Good Credentials. Of the two, Sweet Jersey Corn's achievement is probably the more remarkable. ASA state tournament director Charles Peters Jr., commented,

GEORGIA BOUND: Three members of the Sweet Jersey Corn softball team which will compete in the ASA Major National Tournament next month in Marietta, Ga. are from left: Dee Vertucci, third baseman; pitcher Clare Baxter and team captain and first baseman Dee Pearce.

"From what we can tell, this is the first team from New Jersey to ever be invited to the Nationals.

"We're very proud of them. I feel they've done an outstanding job. One of the teams they beat finished 11th in the nation last year, so I think they're going in with good credentials."

"The odds are way against us," admitted SJS manager Steven Cohen. "We'll be going against teams that go to the nationals year after year ... teams with their $30,000 budgets and eight sets of uniforms. But I feel we have a chance against anybody. We're going down there to win."

"We're going to go down to Georgia and march through it like Sherman," echoed coach Bob Smyth, who doubles as the team's able statistician and publicist.

Sweet Jersey Corn proved that it could go head-to-head with the best in the regionals in Bellmore, N.Y. earlier this season when it fought its way out of the losers' bracket to reach the title game.

On the way, it eliminated the County Sports Mice of Hicksville, N.Y., the 1981 regional champions and an 11th place finisher in the 40-team 1981 National tournament. The Sports Mice were so sure it was going to repeat that it had already made reservations at Marietta.

Funds Are Needed. Qualifying for national tournaments is one thing; getting there is another. Both teams report that they must seek financial aid from residents and organizations in the community to help pay for transportation and accommodations.

SJC hopes to raise half of the estimated $6,000 cost to send its 18 players and two coaches by itself; the other half from donations which will buy space in its commemorative national tournament program: full page $50, half $25, quarter $15, benefactor list $10, patron list $5 and booster list, $2. Checks should be made payable to Sweet Jersey Corn A.C., 30 Wiggins Street, Princeton.

Mike's Tavern is planning on raising part of the travel money it will need by soliciting $10 donations from Princeton area players and fans. "Be on the lookout for a representative from Mike's in the next few weeks," says team spokesman, John Lieggi.

Success Story. Sweet Jersey Corn has been a success story from the start. Organized five years ago by Cohen's sister-in-law, Susan, who decided to get a woman's team together, the Corn competed the first two years in the Princeton Women's league. Three years ago, it was invited to compete in the more prestigious Mercer County A League, where it won two league and two playoff titles.

Susan, incidentally, played the first two seasons and then retired. Her number and those of three other players -- Maryann Cook, Liz Cramp and Pam Carone – have been retired in recognition of their contributions to the team.

What has caused SJC to rise to the top year after year? "Defense has always been one of the strengths we owe our success to," said Cohen, picking his words slowly.

"They're an incredible group of women," he added, warming to his subject. "They're very competitive, very intelligent, very experienced. They love to play softball, they love to win games. Most play in more than one league. They have just learned how to win."

From the time they sit down to that first meeting, to the start of practice in April, to the end of the season it's a half year project, observed Cohen. "It's a big part of everybody's lives."

The team is a diverse group. First baseman and team captain Dee Pearce never played softball in high school but was good enough to earn all-state honors at Rider College. She is an accountant for Johnson and Johnson. The team's pitcher, Clare Baxter, like many on the team, excells in other sports. She is standout soccer and paddle tennis player when she is away from the diamond and her job as head of real estate advertising for TOWN TOPICS.

Third baseman Dee Vertucci, an employee at Squibb, plays basketball, volleyball and tennis. Maureen Nosal, who along with Pearce, is the only active player left from the first Corn team, is president of the Princeton Jaycees, coaches at Notre Dame High, and is a summa cum laude graduate. She is an outfielder.

Debbie Breithaupt, an all-county athlete at PHS and a graduate of Duquesne, is a pharmacist; Carol Knapp, a former three-sport coach at Rider College, is a computer programmer as is outfielder Michelle Morgan, who is also into parachuting.

Outfielder Carol Sadley, a former four-sport Athlete at Trenton State, is completing her physician's assistant program at Rutgers. Lisa Schmidt, a softball player at Bradley University, works for the U.S. Tennis Association; shortstop Marianne Smith is a field hockey and softball coach at Bordentown High School; Sallie Toscano, a former Princeton High standout player, now attends Trenton State where teammate Karen Youngman plays first base and is a NCAA Division 3 all-American. Melanie Nosal attends Notre Dame High and is a champion distance runner.

John Bernard — Jay Bernard

STURHAHN, DICKENSON & BERNARD

One of the most amazing streaks in sports is held by the Dallas Cowboys in their opening game of each season ... Did you know that the Cowboys have won their opening game of the regular season EVERY YEAR for the last 17 CONSECUTIVE YEARS ... Last time Dallas failed to win their opener was way back in 1964.

I bet you didn't know ... that many health insurance plans including Blue Cross-Blue Shield do not cover children after they reach 19 years old.

One of the strangest things that ever happened on the pro golf tour happened in the 1934 U.S. Open when Bobby Cruickshank was battling for the lead ... He hit a shot that bounced luckily to the green ... He was so happy that the ball landed on the green that he threw his club into the air, as many golfers do ... But the club came down and hit him on the head ... The blow almost knocked him out ... He wobbled through the rest of the round unable to play well – and lost his chance to win!

Who's the only player in college football history ever to win the Heisman Trophy TWICE? ... The ONLY man ever to do it is Archie Griffin of Ohio State who won the Heisman in both 1974 and 1975.

the sixth to go in front, 3-2.

For Andy's, Donna Woodruff opened the bottom of the seventh with a single, winning pitcher Karla Pullen singled, Weinkop got on base on an error, Henderson (a perfect 3-for-3) singled to drive in Woodruff, and Foxx got her third RBI of the game, driving in Pullen with the winning run, as Andy's completed its come-from-behind 4-3 victory.

Mike's Tavern went ahead early against PITC, 5-0, sparked by a two-run triple by Dee Pearce. PITC narrowed the score to 5-3 in the fifth, but Pearce put the contest out of reach with her second triple and fifth RBI of the game, as pitcher Lorraine Duthie picked up the 8-3 win for Mike's.

On Friday, after Mike's had gained its forfeit win, things looked bleak for Andy's when Conte's went ahead 3-0 in the first inning on runs by Barbie Falcone, Ivan and Staub.

But in the top of the second, Andy's exploded for nine runs, as it sent 13 batters to the plate. Sparking the attack were Marie Wszolek, winning pitcher Donna White, Woodruff, Pullen, and Weinkop.

Good pitching by White and a fine defensive performance by Andy's three outfielders -- Wszolek, Pullen, and Skooter Petruska -- together with a standout performance by shortstop Lisa Schmidt, who was in on 10 putouts, shut out Conte's for the remaining six innings.

Second baseman Beth Muzyka, who works for the U.S. Tennis Association, and outfielder Donna Nicholson, a trainer at Pennsbury High, also play for a team in Pennsylvania. Catcher Grace Durland is a recent graduate of West Windsor High School, while Terri Vickalitis, a fine soccer player, is a Trenton State student.

SCORECARD NEEDED

For PHS Coaching Changes. Followers of Princeton High School sports will need a scorecard to keep track of the changes in the PHS coaching staff for the coming year.

Carol Parsons will relinquish her position as girls soccer coach to devote more time to her duties as coordinator of athletics and physical education. Her successor will be Ed Beacham, the former boys head soccer coach. He will be assisted by Marybeth Caccese, a former assistant field hockey coach

Beacham's former assistant, Rebecca Mackey will become the new boys head soccer coach, assisted by Peter Larsen, a new member to the PHS staff this fall, and another coach not yet appointed, a vacancy the school is seeking to fill Interested candidates, who must have a teaching certificate or have accumulated 60 credits, should call the high school at 924-5600, ext. 302 or 308.

In the spring, Beacham will also take over as head baseball coach, replacing Jim O'Neill, who has taken a leave of absence

William Cirullo returns as head football coach along with assistants Craig Rendall and Hugo Rossi New assistants on his staff are Doug Snyder, James Pruner and Brian Tams

Cirullo, however, will not return as head lacrosse coach, a position he has held for nine years The new lacrosse coach will be Larsen The new head cross country coach at PHS is Thomas McMorrow.

Joyce Jones returns as head field hockey coach, assisted by Debbie Glover and newcomer Donna Kopp. Kopp, another new member of the PHS teaching staff, will also double as assistant lacrosse coach.

William Humes, the girls tennis coach, has a new assistant in Robert Komada, and Eric Hoover is the new trainer. Lucy Intartaglia is coach of the cheerleaders.

Former atheletic director and assistant principal Norman Van Arsdale, in announcing the coaching changes, said that they had been agreed upon by all those involved.

CHAMPIONSHIP SERIES

Mike's Vs. Andy's. In the Princeton Women's Adult Softball league playoffs last week, regular season third-place finisher Andy's Tavern advanced to the final round by sweeping its best 2-out-of-3 series against second-place Conte's Bar, 4-3 and 14-3.

As it did last year, Andy's will oppose league champion Mike's Tavern, which defeated fourth-place Princeton Indoor Tennis Center, 8-3, and 7-0, the latter a forfeit.

The championship round between Mike's and Andy's will continue with the second game scheduled for this Wednesday at 6 at Community Park A third game, if necessary, will be played Friday.

In Andy's first game against Conte's, played in a cold drizzle which later turned into a steady downpour, Conte's scored in the top of the first inning on hits by Carol Ann Mazzella, Laine Ivan, Jackie Rock, and a sacrifice fly from Harriet Staub. Andy's tied the score in the bottom of the third, but Conte's went up 2-1 in the top of the fourth on hits by Staub, Cathy Borrough, and an RBI from Leigh Versfeld.

After Andy's had evened the score at two in the bottom of the fifth on hits by Marjy Weinkop, Cindy Henderson, and a Mary Foxx RBI, Conte's came right back in the top of

1982-83 Basketball Schedule Will Not Induce Many Fans to Visit Jadwin Gym This Winter

Princeton University has released its men's basketball and hockey schedules for 1982-83, and fans who follow the Tigers in Jadwin Gym will not be excited at what's in store for them.

It was not a banner season for Pete Carril and his players last year; they needed a victory in the final game to struggle to a 13-13 mark, and avoid the first losing record here in more than a quarter century. But along the way, followers of the sport here got to see such top flight competition as Oral Hoberts, St. John's, Brigham Young, Rutgers, and Duke.

There are plenty of good teams still on the schedule, but none of them will be coming to Jadwin this winter. As a matter of fact, outside of the seven Ivy opponents, only three others are scheduled here, making for a total of just 10 home games out of 26 scheduled. Fordham tops the list of non-Ivy foes playing here Tuesday, Dec. 7. Others include Bucknell, which will open the season Saturday, Nov. 27, and Colgate, Monday, Dec. 20.

Those are the only home games in the first six weeks of the season. The weekend of Jan. 7-8, the Orange and Black will start its Ivy schedule, meeting Brown and Yale at home. If, as hoped, Princeton returns to the thick of the Ivy race this year, those contests will prove interesting to watch.

There is no shortage of excitement on the road. In addition to Rutgers, Brigham Young, De Paul and St. John's, the Tigers will play in two tournaments in December. The first weekend will find them in Syracuse for the Carrier Classic with the host school, Alcorn State and Boston University. On the 28th and 29th, they'll be in Albuquerque, playing New Mexico, Butler and Weber State.

It's Better in Baker. Hockey fans will definitely have better fare in Baker Rink, but they better not wait long for their first visit. The day after the Dartmouth football team plays in Palmer Stadium, the Yale hockey team will invade Baker on Sunday, Nov. 21.

The following Friday, Brown will be here, and Boston College will follow the Bruins on Sunday, Nov. 28. That takes care of two of the five home Ivy contests in the first week of the season.

Other teams scheduled to see action here include Providence, New Hampshire, Vermont, RPI and Union College for a total of 12 home contests out of 25. The annual Christmas holiday trip will take the Orange and Black to Denver and Colorado College.

Coach Jim Higgins' skaters will be trying to improve on a record of 9-14-3 last year, and a third place (5-3-2) finish in the Ivy league, behind Harvard and Yale.

The complete schedules for both sports follow:

BULL MARKET IN BEARS

For C. Mouse. If you haven't taken your teddybear to The Country Mouse to see whether he/she is eligible for an award of some kind, it's because you don't have a teddybear and as everybody knows, everybody has a teddybear.

"Anything you do that is fun, helps business," is the perky comment of Cindy Bittinger who, with her husband, William, owns The Country Mouse, 164 Nassau

Since July 14, she's been inviting teddybears to the shop to see whether they are (a) Best Dressed, (b) Largest; (c) Oldest; (d) Funniest; (e) Loudest; (f) Tiniest and, to wind it all up, (g) part of the biggest collection

Bears must be accompanied by applicants, and NO STRAY BEARS ARE ALLOWED, Cindy says."We don't want just anyone wandering in." You don't have to buy a C. Mouse bear, but if you do, it's eligible.

The why of teddybears is one of those things. All Cindy knows, is that she read a piece in the Wall Street Journal about a teddybear parade at the Philadelphia Zoo, and when her mother sent her a clipping of the same article, she knew she had something

Each week, the Bittingers give a $10 gift certificate to the front bear in that week's contest. A $20 certificate will go to whoever has the biggest collection. That contest has a deadline, sort of, of August 15. "Sort of," because it's flexible. Needless to say, you don't have to take your entire "largest" collection to 164 Nassau. A documented photo will do.

Already there have been winners. "Oldest" was a tie between two 1907 bears, one belonging to Dominique Lazanski, age 7; the other belonging to Martha B. Schlosstein, who declared that her bear was born the year her own mother was born.

WEAR A BEAR: Enter your bear, and Country Mouse will give you a sticker to wear.

"Largest" was four by six feet, and had to be measured outside the store It came in a truck, and won an award for Paul and Cynthia Polak.

Categories coming up are "Tiniest" (August 19-25) and that Biggest Collection There is already a "Tiniest" entry, name of Theodore, estimated at three-quarters of an inch in height. Its owner sent along a note: "Homer the Cat present at time of birth and available as witness."

Well, so it goes.

Around 30 people have entered their teddies, and Cindy has found that most of them are mothers and daughters. Television's "Brideshead" to the contrary, not many men collect teddybears, although C. Mouse does have male customers who buy the one dressed as a jogger, complete with sneakers.

"Princeton people have such spirit!" Cindy says, with spirit. "They're proud of what they've collected over the years. They like unusual things, they like to have fun.

"It's mainly for fun, and to get people to feel good — that's what gift retailing should be: capture people's imagination, make them laugh and have a good time"

RESEARCH DEPT. MOVES

To Forrestal. To meet the requirements of its expanded programs and to provide for future developments, the Corporate Research and Technology Department of Siemens Corporation has relocated from Cherry Hill to the Princeton Forrestal Center

The department is occupying 22,500 square feet in the new facility, where an expansion from its present size to between 100-150 scientists and support staff is expected.

The department will be engaged in a growing list of specific research projects which presently are within six areas of high technology: artificial intelligence, robotics, software tools, personal computer work stations and local networks, VLSI (very large scale integration) design automation, and very high speed integrated circuit technology.

The Corporate Research and Technology Department which began its activities in Cherry Hill in 1976, has been headed by Dr. Karl Zaininger of East Shore Drive since March, 1980. The group works in conjunction with the Corporate Technology Division of Siemens AG, Much-Berlin.

Dr. Zaininger noted that Siemens will provide in Princeton a facility that will seek to encourage young American scientists and technicians to participate in projects that will be at the "cutting edge of modern technology."

OBITUARIES

Charles A. Royster, 77, of Philadelphia, Pa., formerly of Princeton, died August 3 in the Lutheran Home in Philadelphia.

Mr Royster was born in Princeton, the eldest son of the late William and Augusta Royster, and educated in Princeton Schools. After his marriage to the former Vivian H. Carter, from whom he was later divorced, he lived in Philadelphia and was employed at the Post Office there.

During World War II, he served as an auxiliary policeman in Germantown, Pa. He also had an upholstery business and later worked for the Philip Carey Mfg. Co in Philadelphia. His second wife was the former Iona L. Holmes who died last January.

Surviving are a daughter, Jane of Germantown; two sons, Julian H. of Germantown, and Daniel of New Jersey; five grandchildren; three sisters, Peggy Myers, Marion Stewart and Christine Royster, all of Philadelphia; two brothers, Jimmy and Harry Royster, also of Philadelphia.

The service and burial were in Philadelphia.

Sydonia Eosko, 80, of Dunwald Road, Hopewell Township, died August 10 in Princeton Medical Center.

Mrs. Eosko was born in Germany and lived in Hopewell for the past 39 years. She was a member of St. Alphonsus Church and its Altar and Rosary Society.

Surviving are her husband, Wasily Eosko; two daughters, Olga Gordenk of Stockton and Sophie Eosko of Hopewell; two grandsons; four granddaughters, and a great-granddaughter.

Mass of Christian Burial was celebrated in St. Alphonsus Church with burial in Highland Cemetery

Eliza Reed Moore, 81, of 47 West Broad Street, Hopewell, died August 14 in the Hunterdon Medical Center, Flemington.

Mrs. Moore was born in Princeton and lived in Hopewell for more than 50 years. She was a former school teacher, and for many years she operated the antique shop known as The Sign of the Black Kettle in Hopewell.

She was a member of the First United Presbyterian Church of Hopewell, the Round-about Club and the Jersey Heritage Doll Club of Flemington. For many years she provided dolls at Christmas time for handicapped children at the New Jersey Neuropsychiatric Institute in Skillman.

Widow of the late Spencer W Moore, she is survived by two daughters, Margery Holstrom and Ann Scheier, both of Hopewell; a son, Spencer W Moore of Hopewell; a sister, Dora Pullen of Hightstown; a brother, Thomas Reed of Lakeworth, Fla., five grandchildren and two great-grandchildren

The service will be held this Thursday at 11 at the Cromwell Memorial Home, 71 East Prospect Street, Hopewell. Burial will be in Highland Cemetery. The family requests that memorial donations be made to the Hopewell Fire Department Ambulance Corps.

Alice Goddard Butler, 82, of 25 Palmer Square West, died August 10 at her home.

She was born in New York City and lived in Madrid, Spain, for 30 years before coming to Princeton five years ago. She was a member of the Colony Club of New York City, the Friends of Princeton Art Museum and the Historical Society of Princeton.

She is survived by a sister, Mrs. Gordon T. Waldron of Princeton.

A memorial service will be held Friday, September 17, at 3 in the Lady Chapel of Trinity Church, 33 Mercer Street. The Rev. Jean R. Smith of Trinity Church will officiate. In lieu of flowers, contributions may be made to the White Memorial Conservation Center, Litchfield, Conn., 06759.

Russell Prickett, 82, of Voorhees Avenue, Hopewell, died August 15 in Hunterdon Medical Center He had lived in Princeton for more than 60 years before moving to Hopewell two years ago.

Mr Prickett was born in St. Louis, Mo. and attended the U.S. Naval Academy. He retired in 1955 from the Forrestal Laboratories at Princeton University after 10 years as a research engineer.

During his career, he had over 20 patents credited to his name He was a 50-year member of the Society of Automotive Engineers and was also a member of the Society of Professional Engineers.

Husband of the late Margaret Prickett, he is survived by a son, William R. Prickett of New Hampton, N.Y.; a daughter, Georgia P. Reed of Hopewell Township; six grandchildren and a great-grandson.

The service was scheduled to be held this Wednesday at 10 at the Mather-Hodge Funeral Home, the Rev. Jean R. Smith of Trinity Episcopal Church officiating. Burial will be in Princeton Cemetery. ### OPEN HOUSE PLANNED

By Jewish Center. The Jewish Center, 457 Nassau Street, will hold an Open House for new and perspective members on Tuesday evening, August 24 at the home of membership chairperson Maury Weinberg and his wife Elaine. Perspective members will have the opportunity to meet with the spiritual leader of The Center, Rabbi Melvin Jay Glatt, and president of the board of trustees, Arthur Meisel, to discuss their needs and the services offered by The Center.

The Jewish Center provides a full range of activities to the community. In addition to Sabbath and holiday services, The Center has a religious school and nursery class, Women's Division and Men's Club, youth groups, and a senior citizens' Drop-In Center. Aerobics and Tai-Chi classes are held several times a week, as well as an extension course in popular culture, given by Edmond Ettinger, doctoral candidate in History.

Adult education courses will provide instruction in Hebrew language, music, and parent education, and will sponsor a lecture and film series and field trips. The Center also issues a bi-weekly news publication and a bulletin devoted to the arts, activities and social concerns of the Jewish community.

For further information and an invitation to the Open House call The Jewish Center at 921-0100 during business hours.

BULLETIN NOTES

The Rev. Timothy J. Mulder, minister of the Reformed Church, Bedminster, will be the guest preacher this Sunday at the 10 a m. chancel service at Princeton University Chapel.

Mr. Mulder is an alumnus of Hope College in Michigan and Princeton Theological Seminary where he received first prize in 1982 in the senior preaching class. His sermon topic will be "Dance with All Your Might."

The Consolata Fathers are sponsoring a bus trip to the Amish Country on Saturday. The bus will leave the Mission Center on Route 27 in Somerset at 8 a.m. Donation of $25 includes trip, four-hour tour and dinner.

A bus trip to Heading, Pa. on Saturday, August 28, is also planned. Bus leaves the Mission Center on Route 27 in Somerset at 7 a.m. Donation of $25 includes round trip bus fare, shopping at the factories and dinner. For reservations for either trip call 297-9191, or 297-5583 after 5:30 p.m.

Registration for Vacation Bible School at the Lutheran Church of the Messiah, 407 Nassau Street, will begin this Monday at 8:45. Classes will be held from 9 to noon, Monday through Friday.

The course has as its theme, "The Lord is My Shepherd," and it will apply the New Testament passages on shepherding and the Good Shepherd to amplify our understanding of the Twenty-third Psalm. This year's Bible School will emphasize creativity in the making of crafts. Children 3-12 years of age are invited.

For more information, call 924-3642.

In his shop on Fifth Avenue in New York City, Mr. Forest established a reputation for quality work at reasonable prices backed by reliable service.

The store offers fine gold and silver jewelry, precious gems, custom designing and remounting, a variety of watches, jewelry and watch repair, appraisals, engraving and fine imported giftware.

RINALDO TO SPEAK

At Chamber Lunch. Matthew J. Rinaldo, member of Congress from the current 12th District and candidate for re-election in the new Seventh District, will be the speaker at a Chamber of Commerce lunch on Monday, August 23 from noon to 1:30 at Scanticon.

Reservations, at $7.50, may be made by calling 921-7676. The public is invited.

Congressman Rinaldo, a Republican, serves on the Energy Committee and the Aging Committee of the House of Representatives. He will talk with Chamber guests about Social Security problems and the energy question. The Chamber is planning its annual Energy Day for October 9 at West Windsor-Plainsboro High School.

A native of Elizabeth, Mr. Rinaldo is a graduate of Rutgers. He holds a master's in public administration from Seton Hall and a doctorate in public administration from New York University.

His public life began in 1963 when he became president of the Union Township Zoning Board. Later, he became a county freeholder and, in 1967, a State Senator. He was elected to Congress in 1972.

DIVISION TO MOVE

From St. Louis to Princeton. The largest agricultural market research firm in the U.S. will relocate headquarters from St. Louis, Mo., to Princeton this fall.

Doane-Western Inc. will take 8,500 square feet of space, or half the first floor, of a new three-story building at 600 Alexander Road. The building was erected for its own offices as well as for tenants by CUH2A architectural engineers.

Doane-Western Inc.'s marketing research division has announced it will make the move "primarily to streamline client services and upgrade its custom research capability." The division has been based in St. Louis since it began as an outgrowth of Doane publications and farm management activities.

It conducts much of its research through an extensive farmer panel. When Doane merged with Western Farm management in 1980, the company name changed to Doane-Western Inc.

The company expects to draw on the academic and marketing research resources in the Princeton area while also keeping its ties with agriculture through the St. Louis office. Data collection and maintenance of the 1,000-member farm panel and the 5,000-member farm dealer panel will continue in St. Louis. Of the division's three areas of marketing research, only the custom research segment will move to Princeton immediately. The multi-client and forecasting groups will remain in St. Louis.

Other tenants in the 48,000-square foot CUH2A building at Alexander Road on Route 1 include two employment agencies and Britton Lee, a computer company now at 1 Palmer Square. CUH2A is occupying 37,000 square feet or two floors. The architectural engineering firm expects to build a twin to 600 Alexander Road which will also have 48,000 square feet of office space, but plans for construction have not yet been announced.

Robert A. McEwan

Theodore Nygreen

PERSONNEL NOTES

Robert A. McEwan of Gulick Road has been appointed director of marketing and evaluation, Fragrance Division, Firmenich.

After joining the company in 1976 as an account manager on the west coast, Mr. McEwan moved to the Princeton headquarters in 1981 to assume added responsibilities in both sales and marketing. In his new position, he will continue to handle specific account assignments in addition to directing marketing and evaluation activities.

G. Theodore Nygreen of Cherry Valley Road has been named a senior vice president and national director of marketing for Anistics Inc., Alexander & Alexander Services Inc.'s risk management subsidiary. A&A is the second largest international insurance brokerage and financial services firm.

Before being named to his current post, Mr. Nygreen was managing vice president of Anistics' Atlanta office. Prior to that, he was a vice president of the national Anistics office. He previously held positions with the National Broadcasting Company in management information systems and with RCA in operations research.

A graduate of M.I.T., Mr. Nygreen holds a Ph.D. degree from Princeton University He is a past president of the New Jersey chapter of the American Records Management Association.

 OUR PROMISE TO PRINCETON CONSUMERS:

IF YOU HAVE A COMPLAINT against any local business firm just call 924 8223 and a Consumer Bureau representative will investigate and mediate then if you are not satisfied and

IF CONSUMER BUREAU'S ALL-CONSUMER PANEL AGREES that your complaint is valid the business firm involved has only two choices either satisfy your complaint promptly or lose its Consumer Bureau Registration

YOU CAN CHECK by phone any time you like whether any local business firm you name is Consumer Bureau Registered

(Not all reputable local firms are Registered but for every Registered firm we have been obliged to take off our register ten times that number of unreliable firms have failed to meet our standards of reliability)

Woodwinds Associates

SPIDER MITE populations are increasing on Evergreen trees and shrubs. Home gardeners can use an "all purpose" type garden spray containing Kelthane Thorough coverage of lower leaf surfaces is necessary to obtain satisfactory control Follow label directions.

APHIDS continue to cause some concern on shade trees Inspect Maples, Willows, Tulip-trees and other attractive shade tree hosts for increasing populations and apply control measures it necessary Honeydew excreted by APHIDS acts as a good growing media for sooty mold and also serves to attract wasps and many species of ants

Adult JAPANESE BEETLES are feeding quite extensively on Linden and other shade tree and ornamental host plants

RHODODENDRON — general dieback and wilt have been prevalent through-out the area Most cases have involved environmental stress factors, such as inconsistent soil moisture, winter injury and poor site location

Consider spraying for insect attack and in the early fall deep-root feeding for all your trees and shrubs where lack of moisture has put the plants in a weakened condition Call WOODWINDS (924-3500) for all your tree care needs.

Laura Guinter Celebrates 100th Birthday; Recalls Missionary Days in Nigerian Bush

When Laura Hummel Guinter left the river boat on which she had sailed up the Niger and Benue rivers in northern Nigeria enroute to setting up a mission, the ship captain shook her hand and said, "Goodbye. I don't expect to see you again."

The year was 1909. Mrs. Guinter and her husband of a few weeks, the late Rev. Clarence W. Guinter, were embarking on what turned out to be 20 years of pioneering missionary work in British West Africa under the auspices of the British Board of the Sudan United Mission.

The only woman aboard the ship, she was "a curiosity," she remembers, laughing at the thought. The statistics for missionaries returning alive from primitive Africa were not good in those days; nine out of ten never came back, she asserts.

Laura Hummel Guinter

Mrs. Guinter celebrated her 100th birthday last Sunday at the home of her daughter and son-in-law, Ruth and Edward Jurji of 89 Castle Howard Court. Grit – her own word – and an unshakeably clear sense of the evangelical call enabled her to cope cheerfully with the most primitive conditions while teaching, preaching, and treating the sick in the African bush.

Mrs. Guinter was born August 15, 1882, in Kratzerville, Pa., the daughter of a druggist from whom she learned herbal and pharmaceutical remedies and applications that were to stand her in good stead in Africa. She enrolled at Central Pennsylvania College in nearby Berlin, then transferred to Bucknell University, graduating with a B.S. degree summa cum laude in the class of 1905.

Long Engagement. While at college she met her husband-to-be, captain of the football team, head of the student government and head of the YMCA. They were engaged for nine years while he completed seminary and complied with the British ruling that a husband serve a term in a new mission before the wife is permitted for reasons of safety to accompany him there. She had already determined to be a volunteer in East Africa, but as she says with the humor that 100 years has not dimmed, it wasn't too difficult to make the switch from East to West Africa.

As her daughter notes in a sketch written for her mother's 90th birthday: "Setting out for Africa as a bride, in an area where the natives had never seen a Western woman, (Mrs. Guinter) set up housekeeping in a mud house with furniture made of packing boxes. Each day brought new challenges as the young couple dug their wells, raised their food, demonstrated farming methods and good hygiene and treated the sick."

Perhaps their most notable accomplishment was learning the native language without benefit of translator, textbook or dictionary – just repeated verbal exchange with the natives in the effort to find the corresponding sound or sequence of sounds denoting, say, "hand." They also had to make sure that what was being described was in truth "hand," and not "fingers" or "palm."

Intonation was important. As Mrs. Guinter notes, you might find yourself saying "Put the colt with the mare," rather than "Give the baby to his father's mother," as you intended.

Translating the Gospel. Once they learned to speak the language, the next task was to reduce a previously unwritten dialect to writing and then to translate the Gospel and produce textbooks based on Scripture. In all, they learned three languages in this painstaking manner.

From the beginning they realized the great need for proper medical care in a land of witch doctors and voodoo practices. They set up a clinic at the mission, and Mr. Guinter paced off an area to be reserved in Bambur for the hospital that was finally built in the 1950's. It was called the Guinter Memorial Hospital until nationalism forced a change in name to the Regional Hospital of the State of Gongola.

A natural story-teller as well as a woman of deep faith, Mrs. Guinter tells of the time early in her stay when she all but despaired over the life of a little baby whose high fever she had been attempting to bring down with hot poultices. She describes the fire she built in the middle of the night, the kettle hanging from a tripod to heat water in which she dipped bits of woolen cloth to wrap around the baby's body, and the anxiety of the relatives.

After midnight, the baby's head dropped to one side, and although she thought he might have died, she wrapped him in a dry cloth and went off to pray. She told the Lord that if the baby were to die, the people would not believe in all they had come as missionaries to do.

The answer came, she says, plainly as if another person was in the room: "Lo, I am with you." Going back out to the fire, she saw the baby lift its head and smile.

Animal Tales. There are other stories – stories of awaking alone with her two babies to find leopard tracks through the house or hippo tracks in the space between their cots as she and her husband camped by a river. Trekking from one village to another, she traveled by foot, by hammock, on horseback, across the streams on the backs of carriers, and by canoe. Her favorite mode of travel was being towed on her bicycle over the narrow winding paths by her husband's motocycle until the roads were wide enough for a side car to the motorcycle.

Scorpions, snakes and lizards were commonplace. She endured the sting of mud-wasps, survived severe food poisoning and numerous bouts of malaria as well as a fever that lasted nine months.

With a shotgun given to her by her husband's college freinds she often went hunting for guinea fowl, and one time was almost lost in the six-foot high dense bush grass in which no one walked alone while in pursuit of a cock calling in the distance. Determined ("I had grit," she says) to get the bird and make broth for her sick husband, she had to go toward a lion that had just announced its kills with, she says, "the most beautiful sound in the world." But she got the bird and made it home safely.

A Glorious Life. Mrs. Guinter maintains that theirs was not a hard life but a "glorious" one, and it was a privilege to share the Gospel with the people of Nigeria whom she came to respect and love. Ill-health forced Mr. Guinter's retirement from foreign service, and they returned to the U.S. in 1929. Reunited with their two young children who had been born in Africa but went to live in a foster home for their health and safety – perhaps the most difficult trial of all – they served two pastorates in Pennsylvania until Mr. Guinter's death in 1941.

Mrs. Guinter moved first to New York where she continued her church and mission work and in 1968 to Princeton to be near her daughter, living on her own until age 91. Her son John is an engineer working for General Motors in Ohio. Her grandson, a pediatrician who worked at the Guinter Memorial Hospital for a term during medical school, and her granddaughter live with their families in Virginia. There are four great-grandchildren.

Wouldn't the ship's captain have been surprised.
